Invictus

by Ernest Henley

Out of the night that covers me,
Black as the pit from pole to pole,
I thank whatever gods may be
For my unconquerable soul.

In the fell clutch of circumstance
I have not winced nor cried aloud.
Under the bludgeoning's of chance
My head is bloody, but unbowed.

Beyond this place of wrath and tears
Looms but the Horror of the shade,
And yet the menace of the years
Finds and shall find me unafraid.

It matters not how strait the gate,
How charged with punishments the
scroll,

I am the master of my fate,
I am the captain of my soul.

TEACHER INTERVIEW

DR. SHERARD BURNS

1.) What is your background in teaching?
“I’ve taught high-school for 11 years; in social studies to be exact.”

2.) What is something you look forward to achieving this year working at RCA?
“I have a couple, but my one big one is to create in the mind of students an excitement for the love of learning.”

3.) What legacy would you like to leave for the students before you leave here?
“I’d like to leave this powerful quote; the legacy of intelligence is not simply a gift,
but a fruit of discipline.”
